

The Food Explorer

A book reading and discussion with author Daniel Stone

Thursday, March 22 | 7pm

The Food Explorer is the story of David Fairchild, an early 20th-century food spy who brought America avocados, mangos, kale, peaches, pomegranates, and hundreds of other foods that became central parts of the American diet.

Learn about Fairchild, the man who circled the world, got arrested, caught diseases, and bargained with island tribes, all in pursuit of the fruits and vegetables that fill our supermarkets and make up our meals.

Come for a short presentation and Q+A with the author, followed by a book signing. Books will be available for purchase and refreshments will be served. Presented by Temple Ahavat Shalom Sisterhood & Adult Education.
